PAINTING FACES

with Megan Lightell

Presented by Artist Friends of the Pomerene

October 5, 2013. 10am-5pm

Location: Pomerene Center for the Arts

Limit: 10 adults ages 15+

Cost: $100 (friends), $110 (guests)

The Artist Friends of the Pomerene invite you to join them for a workshop with M. Lightell on painting faces. The work will center on building a painted image through massing, developing color harmony, and mixing vibrant flesh tones, as well as composition. Achieving a likeness is desirable but secondary to discovering and rendering the structure and coloration of the human face. Painting a live model is one of the most challenging, expanding and beneficial exercises. Participants may choose to work on one canvas or to move throughout the room and work on a series of face studies from various perspectives.

SCHEDULE 10-10:30am Introduction and demonstration. 10:30-12:30 Morning painting session. 12:30-1:30pm Lunch on your own, brown bag at the Pomerene Center or offsite. 1:30-2:00pm Review and critique of the morning's work. 2:00-4:00pm Afternoon painting session. 4:00-5:00pm Critique and suggestions for moving forward.

Please complete the simple form below and send with the Workshop Fee of $100 (friends) or $110 (guests) made payable to the Pomerene Center for the Arts. Send to 317 Mulberry Street, Coshocton, Ohio 43812
